Company Profile

Since its formation in 1948, Fitzgerald Contractors Limited has established an enviable reputation for quality and service on infrastructure, public realm and civil engineering projects across the Midlands.

Today's management is building on the traditions of flexibility and reliability of service that have been the cornerstone of the Company's success. Managed from offices in Birmingham, Fitzgerald has grown to employ over 150 people from across the Midlands area. It is this commitment to the employment of local people and our knowledge of the region that has enabled us to provide a service that exceeds our customer's requirements.

Our Approach With our standing in the market place, local knowledge and Group resources, we can provide an unrivalled service with the emphasis on the Client through traditional procurement routes or Partnering. By working as integral members of the 'Construction Team' we can deliver best value solutions in an open and trusting working environment.

This approach has enabled us to establish highly successful relationships with our Clients and other stakeholders including consultants, our supply chain and the local community.

Our People By achieving accreditation against the Investors in People Standard we recognise that our major resource is our people and their talents. We look to maximise their skills by focusing on personal and team development to ensure delivery of a quality service in all areas of the business.

With our high level of staff retention, local knowledge and experienced people we have the capability to undertake a variety of civil engineering works and be flexible to our Client's needs.

Excellence

Our Competitive Edge

Our managers and site staff have a broad range of experience and work in a practical environment; they therefore have the ability to assess how designs will affect the construction phase.

The extensive experience we have constructing highways and public realm schemes enables us to make a valuable contribution to our Clients' projects in the following areas:

- Co-ordinating and managing Statutory Undertakers early in the design and development process
- Works programming, phasing and timing
- Simplifying designs
- Specification selections – effects on method of working, time and cost
- Buildability
- Choice of materials – availability, cost and engineering application
- “Right first time” finished product
- We have an established supply chain for materials and specialist trades
- Working to safe methods of construction ie. designing out risk

Customer Care Customer care is an important part of our culture and we undertake regular Customer Care Surveys. We pride ourselves on exceeding our customer's requirements and we are able to demonstrate a number of Client commendations and Considerate Contractor Awards.

Our Projects Specifically, we undertake various types of civil engineering contracts for the Public and Private sector and we specialise in infrastructure improvements on the highway and in the public realm. Our experience encompasses a broad range of work categories.

BRITISH SAFETY COUNCIL

Health Safety and Welfare Management

We are members of the British Safety Council and our commitment to the health, safety and welfare of our employees, our Clients and to the general public is central to how we conduct our business.

In addition, our excellent safety record has been rewarded by being presented with the British Safety Council's International Safety Award over a number of years.

To reinforce this commitment we continually monitor Health and Safety performance through a safety audit and inspection regime that is undertaken by our Contract Management and Health, Safety and Welfare personnel.

Health and Safety training is also an essential part of this commitment and we have an annual training programme for our people to ensure they are familiar with current best practise and legislation changes.
